

CONNECTICUT SCHOOL OF BROADCASTING

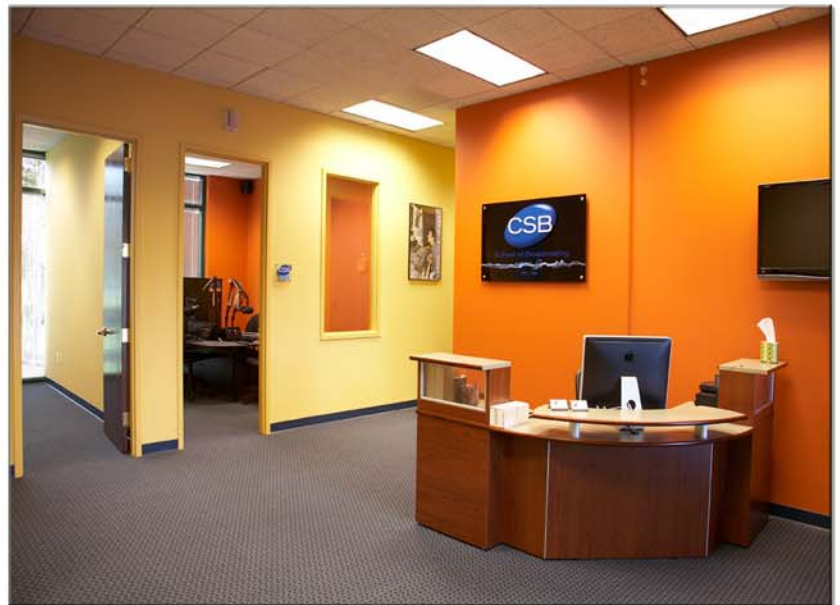

9,000 SqFt DEMOLITION/RENOVATION
Completed August 2008
Charlotte, NC

SCHOOL OF BROADCASTING

This project was a unique renovation of an existing space in the Arrowpoint Office Complex in Charlotte, NC. An enhanced electrical service was included to supply enough power to run the school's wide range of radio and television broadcasting equipment. Additional junction boxes were supplied in the floor which required much of the slab to be sawcut, removed and poured back. Interior walls were reconfigured and painted with a unique scheme in order to offer the necessary office space that our clients desired. In addition, reinforced supports were added above the ceiling in order to sustain the heavy loads that commercial projectors which suspended from the ceilings mandated. The project was completed in four weeks.
