75,000 SqFt New Construction
Scheduled Completion January 2009
Lancaster, SC

CONTINENTAL TIRE NORTH AMERICAN HEADQUARTERS

This new 75,000 square foot headquarters facility was designed to accommodate four hundred employees and serve as the new headquarters and call center for our client. The interior features over one hundred individual offices and several conference rooms. The unique centerpiece of the design is the company logo etched in stained concrete (with ff 50) and highlighted by a massive skylight above. In order to fast track the job, the project was constructed under two contracts, shell and interior, to allow construction to begin while interior design was being finalized. Actual construction of the facility consisted of over one hundred thirty 6" pre-cast concrete panels. A stainless steel architectural mast was fastened to the front elevation in conjunction with storefront glass and decorative EFIS trim.
